report on the commercial relations of the United States with Foreign Powers, furnishes the following information of the immense and varied resources of the Russian Empire. It will be seen that in Agriculture, notwithstauding the severity of the climate, there is a very large production of the staples and Marion Keith were patrolling, in the discharge entering into the consumption of the masses; whilst in some articles of manufacture Russia is almost without a rival. It will be noticed, too, that in her foreign trade the balance is in her favor, indicating the observance of a sound commercial policy.

The area over which Russia holds dominion is estimated in English square miles at 2,022,478 in Europe, and 5.261,075 in Asia and America, making a grand total of 7,283,553. The population of the Empire in Europe in 1852 was estimated at 63,012,. 146, and in the extra European possessions at 6,648,-000, forming a grand aggregate of 69,660,146.

The products of Russia vary with the difference of soil and climate. Cereals of every kind are raised in great abundance; but tye, being the common food of the peasantry, is produced in much greater quanproduction of grain in European Russia (including Poland) may be estimated in ordinary years at 1,-495,000,000 bushels, at a value of about $720,416,-665. Flax and hemp are also extensively cultivated, and constitute a leading export of Russia. Tobacco is cultivated in the southern provinces, and of late years much attention has been given to the cultivation of beet-root. In 1848 the quantity of sugar manufactured from this article was estimated at 32,-240,000 pounds. Tallow and wool are also important articles in the export trade of Russia, the annual exports of the latter amounting to about 18,-000,000 pounds. The climate of Russia is not, however, well adapted to the production of fine wool; and, although much attention has been given to the enter into competition with Australia in supplying foreign markets with this article. The manufacturers of Russia are not generally in a very advanced condition. In some departments of manufacturing industry, however this country excels all others. Every attempt to imitate her leather, especially such as is used for book binding purposes, has proved a failure; and Russia still continues to enjoy, as she doubtless ever will, an undisputed monopoly in supplying foreign markets with this valuable production. Her glass manufactures are also highly esteemed; single plates have been manufactured at the St. Petersburg glass-works, which have readily sold for $3,000. Her other manufactures are sail-cloth, cordage, canva; tick, felt, mats, potashes, soap, candles, caviar, isinglass, spirits, and some minor articles for domestic consumption.

The cotton manufactures of Russia have made rapid progress during the past twenty years, and instead of the vast quantities of cotton yarns formerly imported, she now imports largely of the raw material. In 1832 the quantity of raw cotton imported, was 116,000 poods, (4,176,000 lbs.;) in 1852 it ascended to 1,748,000 poods, (62,928,000 lbs.;) of which she received from the United States 10,475,168 lbs. The total manufactures of Russia employ 6,064,-

700 persons, of which number 4,500,000 are engaged in the manufacture of flax and hemp. The total annual value of Russian manufactures is estimated at 486,000,000 silver roubles, ($364,500,000.) Moscow is the grand centre of this branch of industrial pursuits, and is inhabited almost exclusively by manufacturers and artisans.

The commercial relations of the United States with Russia are regulated by the treaty of October 9, 1832. Its stipulations provide for entire reciprocity and perfect commercial equality between the two countries. It has been observed in good faith by both Governments, and its provisions and spirit faithfully adhered to.

According to McCulloch, in a work published in 1854, none but native Russians are allowed to engage in the internal trade of the country; and henc: a foreigner who imports goods into Russia must sell them to Russians only, and at the port where they arrive. The merchants engaged in the foreign trade are mostly foreigners, of whom the English are the principal. Every Russian carrying on trade must be a burgher, and have his name registered in the burghers's book. These burghers are divided into three guilds. Foreign merchants or guests are permitted to enrol their names in the city register on the payment of from $900 to $850 per annum. The commerce in 1846 was 40,194, whose declared capital amounted to $86,640,300; while the number of foreign merchants was but 34, employing a capital

The effect of the war (formally declared March 31, 1854) on the direct trade between the United States and Russia is shown by the fact that while in 1853 the total value of domestic produce exported from the former to the latter country amounted to Russia to the United States consisted principally of two articles—rice, $21,723 in value; and cotton, physicians and by President Pierce. others, effected a decided cure. This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Borhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system. NOTICE -- Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties. CAUTIONI The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against pur-

> REVIEW OF THE WILMINGTON MARKET. FOR THE WEEK ENDING MAY 7TH, 1857.

TURPENTINE-On Friday last prices advanced a shade on yellow dip and hard, and the market has since ruled steady at $2 to for the former, and $1 65 for the latter, per 280 lbs. ome small parcels of new virgin have been brought in, and tions were barely maintained-sales of the week 42,000 bales, the price has also gone up a shade. As will be seen from our table below the week's transactions have been small, and until the new crop b gins to arrive, (which will probably be in two or three weeks,) the receipts will be confined bales. The market closed unchanged.

See table.

BEEF CATTLE .- In the absence of any arrivals for several weeks, the stock of beeves in butchers' hands has become nearly or quite worked off; we note a brisk demand at present, and high prices could be easily obtained. We quote at 7 to 81 cents for ordinary, and 9 a 91 cents for good quality stall fed ; for an extra article higher rates could be got. COFFEE .- There is nothing doing in this article except in the retail way, and stock in store fully fair. See table for quotations, in quantities as wanted.

COTTON.—The market continues to rule inactive, as there are no orders here, and no buyers at anything like prices at which it is held. Little or none has been received, and we note only a few small parcels on market.

CORN MEAL.—None has come in from the country for some time past, and the supply on market is quite small.—
We quote a moderate demand from retailers, with sales in the small way from store at 90 cents per bushel. EMPTY BARRELS.—For Spirits Turpentine barrels we note a shade improvement in prices since our last. There has existed a fair enquiry throughout the week, and with meagre receipts for some time, the stock on market is only We notice sales of several parcels second hand ones at $1 75 a $1 80 for ordinary, and $1 85 a $1 87 ach FEATHERS-Are in fair stock, and dull at quotations

FISH.-The stock of all kinds has been pretty much worked off, and we note a fair enquiry for Herring and Mackerel See table for store rates. FLOUR .- The market has exhibited rather more firmness since last review, and quotations have advanced 25 cts. per bbl. en all grades. In consecuence of the meagre re ceipts for several weeks the supply in store has become light, and confined almost entirely to the finer qualities, while we note only a moderate demand. The lower grades (fine and eross) are enquired after, and would sell quick. We quote small sales of State brands for the week at $6 50 for cross. $6 75 a $7 for fine, $7 25 for superfine, and $7 50 a $7 75 per bbl. for family, as in quality.

GRAIN-In the market for Corn we have no materia THE Undersigned respectfully takes this method to inform the citizens of Wilmington and surrounding counchange to notice. Call articles usually kept in such an establishment, all of which he will sell low for cash, or on accommodating terms. Call article during the past week or two, and dealers have a condensation of this article during the past week or two, and dealers have a condensation of the condensation this article during the past week or two, and dealers have a supply on hand sufficient for their wants. No receipts.—
We learn, however, that one or two parcels are daily expected.

A. H. VANBOKKELEN, Agent. ed. See table for cargo rates .- PEAS-All kinds are exceedingly scarce, and wanted; in fact there is market with the exception of small lots of Cose in dealers hands. We quote a fair demand at $1 for Cow, and $1 25 for Black Eye.——RICE—The Clean article remains the same as reported for some time: stock in store fully fair, and no demand except from the trade. See table for quotations, no demand except from the trade. See table for quotations, as in quantity and quality.

HAY—In this article we have nothing new to report.—
The stock on market is fair, and we notice a moderate demand as existing. Received on Saturday last 400 bales Northern make, which changed hands at 90 cents per 100 lbs., 90 days. No receipts of Eastern, and quotations in table are for last sales.

LIME—No receipts since last review. and former arrivals have been nearly all worked off;—one or two cargoes are expected, which will replenish the market. See table.

MOLASSES—Cuba is in fair enquiry, and former receipts have been nearly all closed off. Only one small lot now in first hands, which is selling from wharf at 51 cents per galfisrt hands, which is selling from wharf at 51 cents per gel-

PROVISIONS .- In N. C. cured Bacon we have nothing new to notice. There is a moderate supply on market, and in consequence of the high prices retailers do not seem disposed to operate to any extent. The market rules quiet, and we have but few small transactions to report. We quote 13½ a 14 cents for shoulders, 14 a 14½ cents for sides, 15½ a 16 13½ a 14 cents for shoulders, 14 a 14½ cents for sides, 15½ a 16 cents for hams, and 14 a 15 cents per lb. for hog round, as in quality; generally held at highest figures. Western cured is in better supply, and with a limited demand the market has ruled quiet during the week. We quote at 12 a 12½ cts. for sheulders, and 13 a 13½ cents per lb. for sides, as in quantity and quality.—Lard—Is scarce and very badly wanted. None has been received for a week or two, and there is none remaining in first hands;—would sell quick at 14½ a 15 cts. per lb. for N. C. make,—Pork.—We note several parcels of Northern Mess received within the past week, and the market is rather better supplied. No change, however, to market is rather better supplied. No change, however, to make in prices, and sales have been from store at $25 a $26 POTATOES-There is considerable demand for Irish, and only a few small parcels now on market. We quote at $3 25 a $3 50 per bbl., as in quality.

PEA NUTS—None coming in, and little or no demand. Quotations in table are merely nominal. SALT.—The supply of both Liverpool sack and Alum is only moderate, as the receipts have been meagre for some time past. About 1,150 sacks of the former received coastwise a few days since, of which 150 sacks sold at 90 cents, cash, and 1,000 do. (previous to arrival) at 85 cents per sack, 90 days. No arrivals of alum. SUGAR.—The stock on market is light, and prices have advanced a shade. See table. A lot of 80 hhds. Muscovado was received a day or two since, and has been stored ;selling at 121 a 131 cents per lb., as in quality.

SHINGLES.—No demand for shipment, and market very dull. Nominal at $1 75 a $2 for Common, and $4 a $5 per M fer Contract.

TIMBER .- The receipts for the past week have been quite small, and as there has been more enquiry for milliag purposes nearly all on market has been disposed of. We quote sales of some 20 a 25 rafts at prices ranging within uotations. See table. FREIGHTS.-Rates to New York and Philadelphia remain the same except on cotton, which has declined 25 cents to former port. To Boston naval stores and cotton have declined a shade, and market rather dull. There are plenty of vessels in port, and not much produce coming in. See table. NEW ORLEANS, May I .- The sales of Cotton to-day comprised 2000 bales at unchanged prices. Middling is queted at I4c. per lb. The receipts for the week are 8500 bales. The receipts for the season show a decline from those for the same time last year of 100,000 bales at this port, and of 451, 000 bales at all ports. The stock on hand comprises 160,000 bales. Flour is unchanged.
